GREATER LOVE

Wilfred Owen

1893—1918

Red lips are not so red
As the stained stones kissed by the English dead.
Kindness of wood and woer
Seems shame to their love pure.
O Love, your eyes lose lure
When I behold eyes blinded in my stead!

Your slender attitude
Trembles not exquisite like limbs knife-skewed,
Rolling and rolling there
Where God seems not to care;
Till the fierce love they bear
Cramps them in death's extreme decrepitude

Your voice sings not so soft,— Though even as wind murmuring through raftered loft,—

Your dear voice is not clear,
Gentle, and evening clear,
As theirs whom none now hear
Now earth has stopped their piteous mouths that coughed.

Heart, your were never hot,
Nor large, nor fulllike hearts made with great shot;
And though your hand be pale
Paler are all which trail
Your cross through flame and hail:
Weep, you may weep, for you may touch them not.

EVERYONE SANG

Siegfried Sassoon

Everyone suddenly burst out singing;
And I was filled with such delight
As prisoned birds must find in freedom
Winging wildly across the white Orchards and dark green fields; on, on;
and out of sight.

Everyone's voice was suddenly lifted,
And beauty came like the setting sun.
My heart was shaken with tears, and horror
Drifted away . . . O, but everyone Was a bird; and the song was wordless; the singing will never be done.

THE SOLDIER

Rupert Brooke

1887—1915

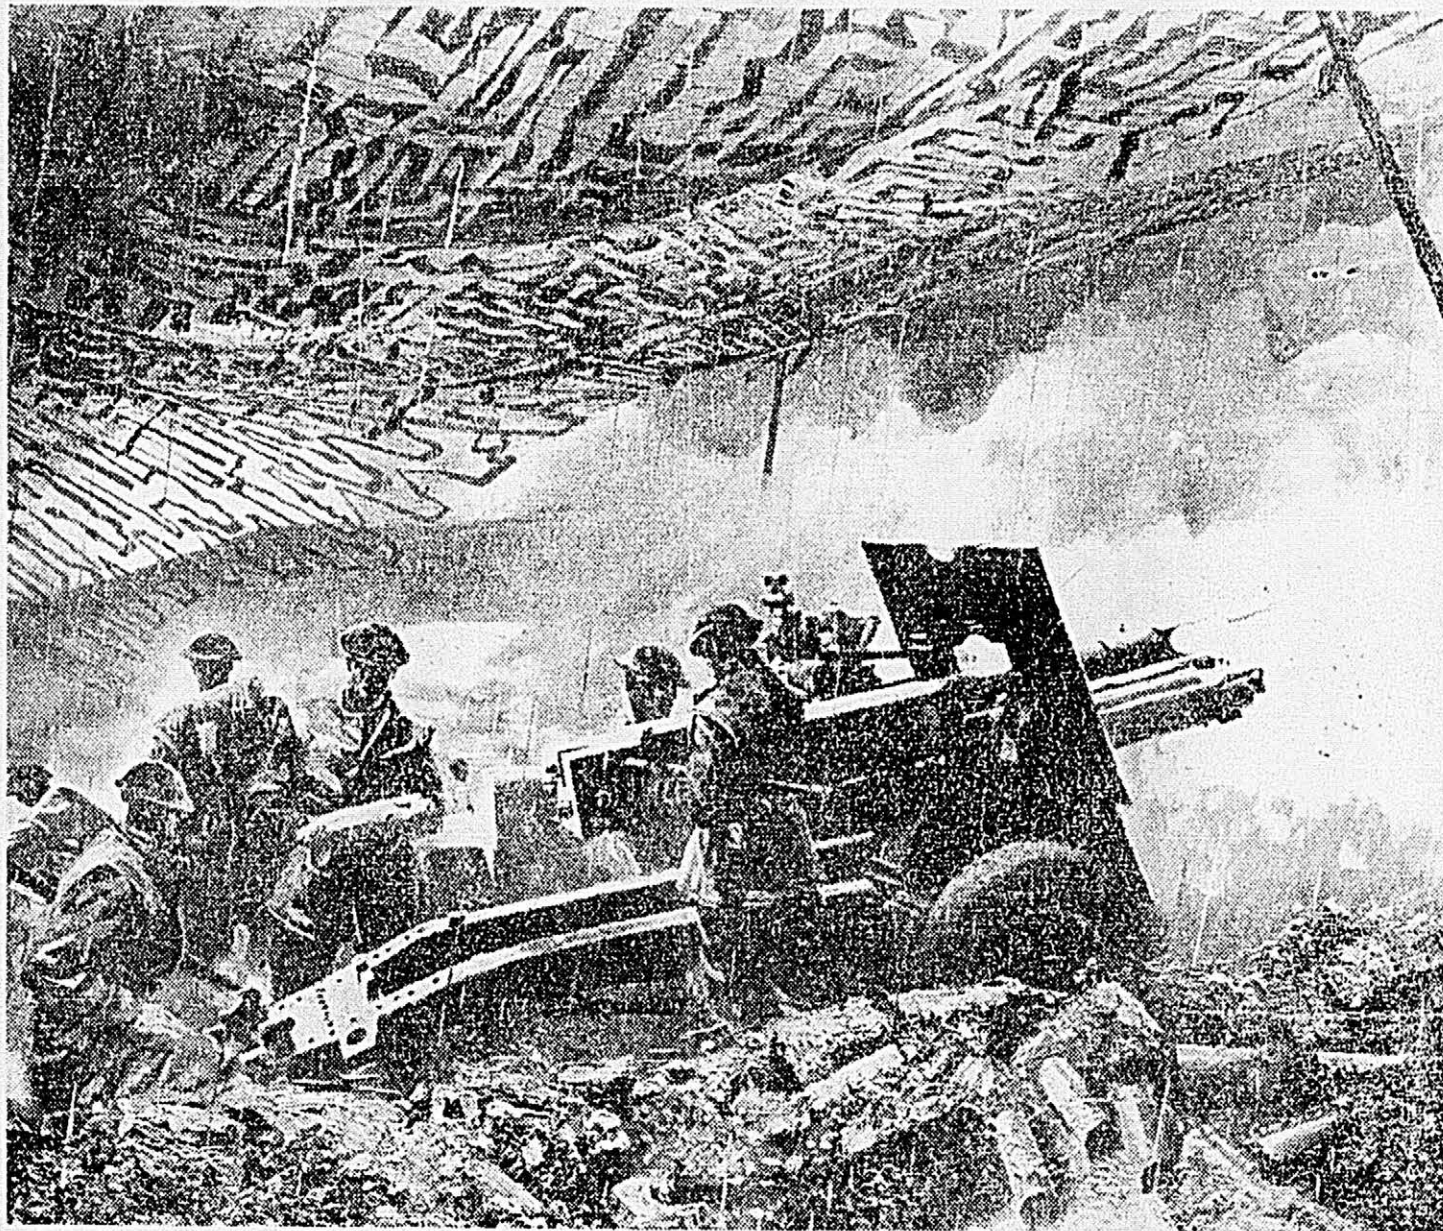

If I should die, think only this of me;
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is for ever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave once, her flowers to love, her ways to roam,
A body of England's breathing English air,
Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home.

And think, this heart, all evil shed away,
A pulse in the eternal mind no less
Gives somewhere back the thoughts of England given;

Her sights and sounds; dreams happy as her day;
And laughter, learnt of friends; and gentleness,
In hearts at peace, under an English heaven.

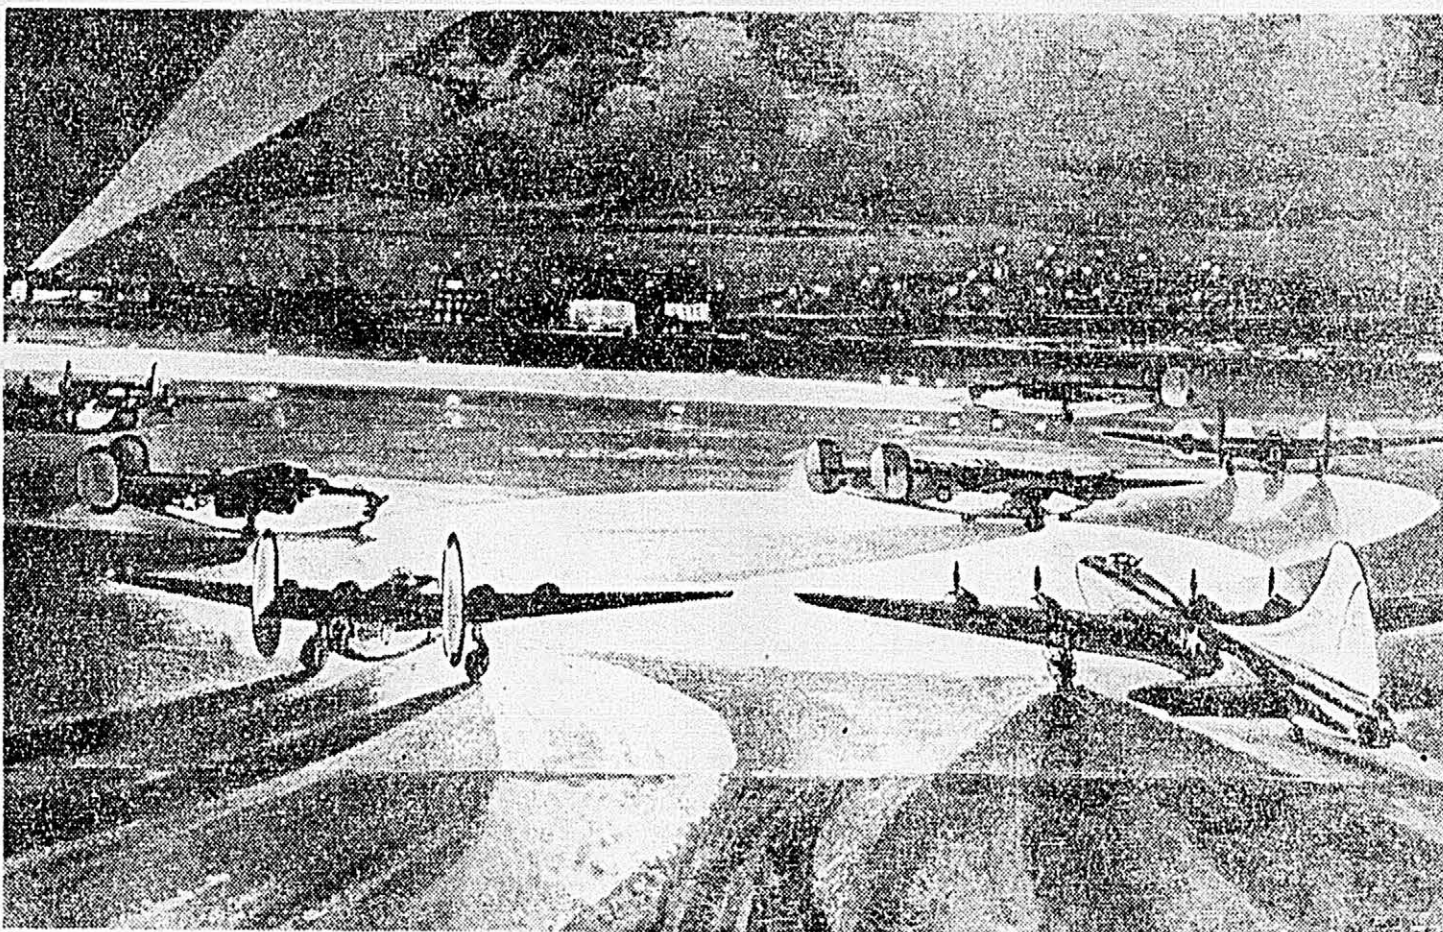

*In tribute to the Sailors, Soldiers, and Airmen who died for their beliefs;
these poems, prose, and paintings are dedicated...*

Royal Air Force, as so many splendid fellows have already done.

First, it will comfort you to know that my role in this war has been of the greatest importance. Our patrols far out over the North Sea have helped to keep the trade routes clear for our convoys and supply ships, and on one occasion our information was instrumental in saving the lives of the men in a crippled lighthouse relief ship. Though it will be difficult for you, you will disappoint me if you do not at least try to accept the facts dispassionately, for I shall have done my duty to the utmost of my ability. No man can do more, and no one calling himself a man could do less.

I have always admired your amazing courage in the face of continual setbacks; in the way you have given me as good an education and background as anyone in the country; and always kept up appearances without ever losing faith in the future. My death would not mean that your struggle has been in vain. Far from it. It means that your sacrifice is as great as mine. Those who serve England must expect nothing from her;

we debate ourselves if we regard our country
as merely a place in which to eat and sleep.

History resounds with illustrious names who have given all, yet their sacrifice has resulted in the British Empire, where there is a measure of peace, justice, and freedom for all, and where a higher standards of civilization has evolved, and is still evolving, than anywhere else. But this is not only concerning our own land. Today we are

THE SPRINGBOARD

Louis MacNiece

He never made the dive—not while I watched.
High above London, naked in the night
Perched on a board. I peered up through the bars Made by his fear and mine but it was more than fright
That kept him crucified among the budding stars.

Yes, it was unbelief. He knew only too well
That circumstances called for sacrifice
But, shivering there, spreadeagled above the town,
His blood began to haggle over the price
History would pay if he were to throw himself down.

If it would mend the world, that would be worth while
But he, quite rightly, long had ceased to believe
In any Utopia or in Peace-upon-Earth;
His friends would find in his death neither ransom
nor reprieve
But only a grain of faith—for what it was worth.

And yet we know he knows what he must do.
There above London where the gargoyles grin
He will dive like a bomber past the broken steeple,
One man wiping out his own original sin
And, like ten million others, dying for the people.

A REFUSAL TO MOURN THE DEATH, BY FIRE, OF A CHILD IN LONDON

Dylan Thomas

Never until the mankind making
Bird beast and flower
Fathering and all humbling darkness
Tells with silence the last light breaking
And the still hour
Is come of the sea tumbling in harness

And I must enter again the round
Zion of water bead
And the synagogue of the ear of corn
Shall I let pray the shadow of a sound
Or sow my salt seed
In the least valley of sackcloth to mourn

The majesty and burning of the child's death.
I shall not murder
The mankind of her going with a grave truth
Nor blaspheme down the stations of the breath
With any further
Elegy of innocence and youth.

Deep with the first dead lies London's daughter,
Robed in the long friends
The grains beyond age, the dark veins of her mother

Secret by the unmourning water
Of the riding Thames
After the first death, there is no other.

AMENDMENTS

This afternoon, at five o'clock, there will be a general meeting of the Students' Society, in the Union Ballroom. The constitution of the McGill Union is up for amendment to allow for a Graduate Student member on the Union House Committee. Since Graduates now pay fees to the McGill Union, this seems a fair proposal and will also take some of the work off the Union House Committee. Two minor amendments to the constitution of the Students' Society are also proposed.

However, more important than this, the Society will be asked to consider the position they wish to take with regard to the surprising action of the Senate in refusing to ratify a section of Article VI which was amended last February by the Students' Society.

Article VI deals with representation on the S.E.C. and this particular section gives one representative to the combined faculties of Dentistry and Medicine. At present, these faculties each have a representative. It will be remembered that the amended Article VI made several changes whose merits were discussed last year and which received the approval of the students. The net result was to increase the size of the council from 13 to 14 and give fairer representation.

The refusal of the Senate to ratify this section leaves two courses open to the students. They may accept the action of the Senate and after their decision accordingly, or they may reaffirm their amendment and ask the Senate to reconsider. If the Senate accepts this protest favourably, then the December elections will be on the basis of the Article VI as amended last February. If the Senate still refuses to ratify, however, then the old rule with respect to that particular section will be considered still in force and this allows separate representatives to Dentistry and Medicine.

The Constitution of the Students' Society requires that amendments be approved by the University. This is a wise provision and open to no criticism from the students. However, it is felt that the power of the Senate to refuse an amendment should only be exercised if serious prejudice is likely to result on the campus or if the reputation of McGill were to suffer. For example, if the Society passed an amendment forbidding Americans from being members, or raising the student fees or declaring affiliation with a political party, these would obviously be proper subjects for Senate action. It is difficult to see why the Senate should concern itself with an internal reform desired by the students in order to give the Council a fairer representation and a size that is not too unwieldy. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor,
McGill Daily.
Dear Sir,
Congratulations to Dave Newman on last Thursday's "Student's Forum."

On behalf of the Dawson Soccer team, I would like to echo Mr. Newman's sentiments. Needless to say, there are many more students participating in minor sports than in so-called "major sports."

The Students' Athletic Council is, therefore, not acting in the interests of the majority of the students when it curtails minor sports.

Any McGill student who has any respect for his Alma Mater wants to see McGill produce a winning team in a major sport. However, we should not forget that the importance of a game is not in winning but in participating. Admittedly, the trend in several North American universities today seems to be to produce a winning team, regardless of cost (financial or otherwise). Throughout its history, McGill has maintained a very sensible attitude towards sports. Let us not, with such a splendid record behind us, forget the philosophy of sport—that the main issue in life is not the victory, but the fight, the essential is not to have won the victory, but to have fought well.

We should see to it that minor sports are fully re-instated, and further encouraged at McGill. It is these sports which provide social activity and recreation for the majority of students. They are an important part of university life. Their cost is almost negligible compared with the vast sums spent on the "major teams."

Yours faithfully,
DEREK PHILLIPS,
Manager of the Dawson Soccer Team.

Dear Sir,

We would like to thank Messrs. Bawden, Wilson, Girvan and MacDonald very much for their very enlightening letter. To obtain special excursion rates, twenty-five tickets must be sold. Judging from past experience, and as far as could be ascertained this year there were less than twenty five students interested in making this pilgrimage by train to the Mecca of football, London Ontario. There was great interest in the games held at Kingston and Toronto and this Society sponsored these two successful excursions. If the above mentioned gentlemen will volunteer their services next year, we can conduct a campus wide poll to ascertain the number of students wishing to make this trip to London.

We would like to commend these gentlemen for their keen spirit, however, in view of their letter and the above facts, "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

RAY CHARTON,
President, Red and White Society.

Dear Sir:

We would like to bring to the attention of the student body the following statement read by Sam Freedman to a meeting of students in the ballroom of the Union at 1 p.m. yesterday:

The McGill CCF Club does not support the philosophy expounded by Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the Dean of Canterbury. It neither agrees nor sympathizes with the policies he advocates. Yesterday the club was approached by the Student's Christian movement and asked to sponsor the Dean as they had not the legal right to do so. In order to bring this prominent speaker to the campus, the club agreed to do this at a meeting held on Monday. It was definitely understood at the time that the club would disassociate from any remarks that the Dean might make.

Last evening the dates committee of the union decided that he would not be allowed to speak in the Union. Their reasons were explained by Mr. Jack Crepeau. The McGill CCF accepts those reasons and appreciates the position of the dates committee in this matter. At the same time we strongly condemn Mr. Robert Gill for his rudeness and unwarranted assumption of authority in handing down a decision before the dates had met. The CCF supports in principle the maintenance of free speech in the University and disagrees violently with any policy of political discrimination on the campus. Its members are greatly interested in the efforts to have Dr. Johnson recognized on the campus. However it does not feel that any sponsorship of subsequent activities can be attributed to the CCF since these activities are clearly beyond the control of the club. The McGill CCF Club is not responsible for any petitions or meetings held on or off the campus.

JUST WONDERING ...

Dear Sir:
Would somebody please tell me what happened to the clock in the Arts Building?

Indicating the time for all to see, it was certainly a great help in time of need. However, the clock is gone. Since its mysterious disappearance two weeks ago, many have been waiting patiently for its return.

Is that familiar meeting place, "under the clock" doomed to become an expression in theory only? Sincerely yours,
Goldie K.

Crepeau to Address Lib. Meeting Today

There will be a meeting of the Liberal Club in the New Room of the Union at 1.00 p.m. today. The speaker will be Paul Crepeau of the University of Montreal, who will speak on "Some Aspects of the Compact Theory of Confederation."

Paul Crepeau is President of the Law Undergraduate Society at the U. of M., and comes from a distinguished Liberal family. He is a brother of Jack Crepeau, President of the McGill Union.

As the question of provincial rights has been held to depend on the nature of the agreement which produced Confederation the speaker will be largely concerned with this problem. A question and discussion period will follow the speaker's address, and interested students are invited by the executive to be in attendance.

is won. For all that can be said against it, I still maintain that this war is a very good thing; every individual is having the chance to give and dare all for his principle like the martyrs of old. However long time may be, one thing can never be altered—I shall have lived and died an Englishman. Nothing else matters one jot nor can anything ever change it.

You must not grieve for me, for if you really believe in religion and all that it entails that would be hypocrisy. I have no fear of death; only a queer elation ... I would have it no other way. The universe is so vast and so ageless that the life of one man can only be justified by the measure of his sacrifice. We are sent to this world to acquire a personality and a character to take with us that can never be taken from us. Those who just eat and sleep, prosper and procreate, are no better than animals if all their lives they are at peace.

I firmly and absolutely believe that evil things are sent into the world to try us; they are sent deliberately by our Creator to test our mettle because He knows what is good for us. The Bible is full of cases where the easy way out has been discarded for moral principles.

I count myself fortunate in that I have seen the whole country and known men of every calling. But with the final test of war I consider my character fully developed. Thus at my early age my earthly mission is already fulfilled and I am prepared to die with just one regret, and one only—that I could not devote myself to making your declining years more happy by being with you; but you will live in peace and freedom and I shall have directly contributed to that, so here again my life will not have been in vain.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

The following is a statement issued to The Daily last night by Robert M. Gill, President of the Students' Society, regarding certain controversial issues which have arisen during the past few days.

In answer to the criticism of the stand taken by me concerning the rights of the SCM and the use of the McGill Union for a meeting at which the Dean of Canterbury was scheduled to speak, it would be best to start off by stating my status as President of our Society.

Article 5(a) of the Constitution of the Students' Society states as follows: "Duties of the President.—To preside at all meetings, etc. ... He shall REPRESENT the students on all official occasions."

Article 6, section 3 "The Executive Authority of the students' Society is vested in the Students' Executive Council."

Article 5, section 4 "The Students' Executive Council shall be the ONLY RECOGNIZED MEDIUM, outside the Students' Athletic Council, between the students and the University Authorities and the general public."

As President of the Students' Society, I am not elected to follow any whims of any group. I am not elected as a delegate with specific instructions as to how to deal with the many decisions which must be made in this office. I am elected to serve the interests of the students as a whole.

The President of the SEC is chief executive of the body which, by Article 6, section 3 is the "only recognized medium ... between the students and the University Authorities and the general public." That same body has vested in it the executive authority of the Students' Society.

The executive authority of any body serves to initiate, direct and administer matters concerning the general interests of that body. Such is the job of the Federal Cabinet at Ottawa, of the Politburo at Moscow and of the SEC at McGill, within their respective jurisdictions.

Now, obviously the question of granting permission to such a prominent individual as the Dean of Canterbury has become a matter concerning all students, and the SEC in particular. It was naturally a decision to be made by the SEC. Unfortunately that body could not be contacted at such short notice. The decision had to be made promptly. That decision has since been approved by the SEC.

My stand is backed, then, by the SEC and was perfectly constitutional according to the constitution of the Students' Society. I am not elected to do anything but serve as chief executive, to take the responsibility for decisions which must be made when the SEC is not present to make them.

I took that responsibility fairly and squarely. I did not evade it, nor did I pass the buck to someone else. If the majority of the students at McGill feel that they no longer have confidence in my ability to serve in the position of President of the Students' Society, I shall send my resignation to the Secretary-Treasurer of the SEC and to the Principal of the University. But, I shall not resign before the persistent bickerings of a select group of students who have taken a notoriously single-minded stand on every conceivable issue.

Political Club First Air Debate To Hear Callard Given Monday

Prof. Callard will address the Political Science Club tonight, Nov. 10, at 7.45 p.m. in the New Room of the McGill Union. The topic of the address will be: "The Future of the Commonwealth."

Prof. Callard, who received his B. Sc. (Econ.) from the London School of Economics where Prof. Laski was his tutor, is studying Canadian Local Government. Prior to his studies at London University he received the Leverhulme Scholarship.

His studies were interrupted by his service as a captain in the Indian Army during the last war where he had the opportunity of observing the elections for the Indian Constituent Assembly. At McGill, he is giving courses in The Administrative Process and Public Corporations.

Prof. Callard will discuss the problem of Dominions such as India, Pakistan, and Ceylon with their different political traditions and their adaptation to a Commonwealth based on the political traditions of the West. Problems in the future evolution of the Commonwealth will also be discussed. All interested students are invited to attend.

Broadcasted from the C.J.A.D. studios Monday night was the first air debate ever presented by a Canadian University. It was given by the McGill Debating Society in Co-operation with the Radio Committee. The subject of the discussion "Universities do not meet the needs of students" was contested by two McGill professors, Doctor D. L. Thomson and Professor F. M. Watkins. The affirmative was represented by two students, Len Beaton, Fourth Year Arts and Jon Ballon, Med. I.

The broadcast was opened by Boris Berrier, the moderator. The first speaker, Jon Ballon, then began the discussion with a five minute talk. He stated that in the present day system "there should be more consideration given to the development of a flexible guiding philosophy of education."

Prof. D. L. Thomson replied saying that although "some of our courses are too specialized, some are too broad and too loose in their structure, there is more planning and philosophy of education than shows on the surface. "Education" should be like the human eye which focuses sharply on a small area, but is more dimly aware of a wild field."

First Women Gen Nite Has Speakers, Mock Interview

Last night the first Women's Gen Nite of the year was held in the RVC Gym. This Gen Nite was sponsored by the McGill Placement Bureau under Mrs. H. Findlay.

The meeting was opened by Joan Radley, President of the Women's Union, who introduced the various speakers on the platform, and mentioned the second Gen Nite, to be held in February, in the form of a fair at which the different speakers will occupy booths.

Next Mrs. Findlay brought out the importance of putting summer vacations to practical use. The President of the Alumnae Society, Mrs. H. Buchanan, spoke of the various affairs sponsored by the Society, such as Gen Nites, awarding bursaries, etc.

Following this was a mock interview, based on a skit by Miss S. Nowlan. She interviewed Miss Brooks, who was a perfect example of what not to do, and Miss Lundon, who was all an applicant should be. Miss Nowlan pointed out that an interview judges an applicant by the way she fills out an application form as well as by the impression she makes.

The three speakers were then introduced by Miss Rossiter. The field of radio and writing was discussed by Miss Chisholm of the CBC. She stated that the most important qualifications for radio work were alertness, new ideas, and the ability to write.

Mrs. G. Gorham spoke on fashion co-ordinating, stressing the fact that it is not as glamorous as it may sound, but rather a job requiring twenty-four hours of hard work a day. She added that it was a lot of fun as well.

"The secretarial field is usually considered a run-of-the-mill job," stated Mrs. Maguire, Ph.D., and then went on to prove the fallacy of this belief. She gave the most important qualifications as being precision, good judgment, ability to learn quickly, and to make decisions, and a knowledge of good English. She pointed out that a secretarial position is a good start for the publishing field or executive work.

Milt Orr, McGill Boxing coach, has announced that there will be no boxing session Thursday afternoon, November 11, due to the fact that the gym will be closed for Armistice Day.

Cosmos Talks Inaugurated Today at 1 p.m.

At today's inaugural lecture of the Cosmos Club commencing shortly after one in the New Room of the Union, Mr. Ken Joseph will speak on the significance of President Truman's election.

Mr. Joseph is a political science graduate from the University of Minnesota, and an old hand in election campaigning. At present taking an M.A. in Economics, he is in a good position to talk on a contest that had such a surprising outcome.

Today's lecture initiates a weekly luncheon series put on by the Cosmos Club which will bring to all who may be interested speakers on current topics and representative from the four corners of the globe. It is not necessary to be a Cosmos Club member although it is anticipated that many will be tempted to join the Club and enjoy other of its activities.

The object of the Cosmos Club is to bring together members from all countries represented on the campus, and help them and the Canadian members to know about each other and about the world. On the agenda are several social nights, the afore-mentioned weekly lectures, a radio broadcast, excursions, joint meetings with other clubs, activities with French-Canadian winter events, and the much-talked-about Mock United Nations Assembly.

The Club has enjoyed a great rejuvenation this year, and great things are expected of it. Although the executive has been in office barely two weeks, the Club has already participated in sponsoring the Halloween Dance, and has successfully turned out another edition of the popular "Freshman Handbook." There will be plenty of room for more members on one of the numerous committees being formed.

Lunches are in order, and it is expected that most people will chew and listen.

THIS TAKES PRACTICE

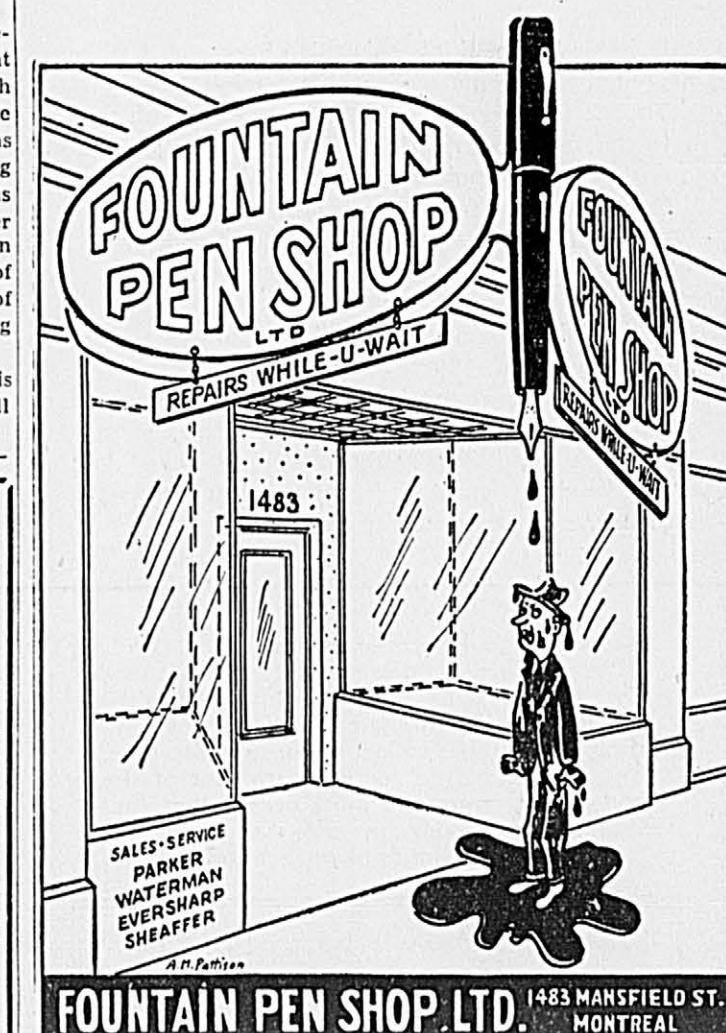

So easy ... so smooth ... the epitome of perfection. But observe, if you will, the sad fate of the lady in the background. She thought anyone could skate ... without practice. She won't be asked again ...

It's also a mistake to think that the saving habit can be acquired without practice. It can't. But it is surprising how intelligent money management can be learned by following two simple rules. One ... spend no more, and preferably less than you earn. Two ... bank at least something out of every dollar you receive. We welcome your account.

Seven Swimming Marks Smashed in Intramural Meet

Mingie, Kopin, Star In Record Breaking Intramural Victories

By RUBY BRESSLER

In what was perhaps the greatest exhibition of intramural swimming ever seen at McGill, seven out of the eight existing records were shattered at the Canadian Legion Pool last night.

Arts and Science dethroned last year's victorious Physical Education team by a 75-53 score. Commerce and Engineering showed strong with 37.5 and 32.0 points respectively.

The events were so closely contested that the event of a man breaking the existing record and not winning occurred twice. When the splashing of the thrilling meet had settled only the 100 yard Freestyle record remained. The meet produced, without a doubt, a wealth of talent for the Senior Intercollegiate Team.

Peter Mingie, Canadian Olympic performer, smoothly rode his way to new records in the 50 and 100 yard Backstroke events.

Irwin Kopin, a 220 lb. Breast Stroker from the States, "butterflied" his powerful frame to three new records. He broke all the existing records for the 50, 100, and 200 yard distances by margins of three, eleven, and five seconds. These were the highlights of a meet which saw the 50 yard freestyle beat by Rainbow and the 100 yard record almost equaled by Titus.

The Arts and Science team of Mingie, Kopin and Merrow won the seventy-five yard Medley Relay breaking the record by 2.9 seconds. The Commerce squad won the 100 yard relay in the impressive time of 52.4 seconds.

A. Merrow, an intercollegiate back stroke champion from the States won the 220 yard freestyle event by reverting from the crawl to his native back stroke in the final 75 yards race to edge out Titus for the victory. Merrow was beaten by a small margin in gaining second place in the 100 yards freestyle and placed in several other events.

The Faculties were all eager for the laurels of the meet and the events were held to a background of constant cheers and shouts of encouragement. It was the most fruitful intramural meet ever held, in view of thrills, keen inter-faculty competition and senior team material produced.

The events and winners:
75 yard Medley Relay: 1. Mingie (A & S), Kopin (Eng.), Merrow (Phys. Ed.). Time 40.8 sec. Old record 42.9 sec.
50 yard Back Stroke: 1. Mingie (A & S). Time 30.4 sec. Old record 33.0 sec.

Redmen Clash With Dynamo In Soccer Tilt

By DIANE FELDMAN

Tomorrow afternoon the McGill Soccer team visits Dawson and will attempt to protect the prestige garnered in the Intercollegiate series with Toronto. This will be the second game between the two teams. In the first encounter the Red team was a little overconfident and managed to salvage a 2-2 draw.

Missing from the first game were Ted Fainst, goalkeeper, who played so brilliantly against Toronto, and little Abdul Kader, speedy inside man. Providing that these two men are available for tomorrow's game and that the remainder of the lineup will be intact, McGill is favored to cop the Interfural Championship.

Joe O'Brien, manager and captain of the Red team, has submitted the following list of players who are to make the trip: Ted Fainst, Ainsley Dujon, Tom Bishop, Ken Scott, Leighton Hutson, Richard Roper, Tom Lemily, Doug Hayward, Phillip Samuels, Abdul Kader, Cash Kazan, and Ken Bullock. The above named are to report to the Currie Gym at 12.45 p.m. on Thursday. They are also informed that those entitled to boot allowance will be paid at this time. The school bus will be used for transportation, and Phillip Samuels is asked to contact Hay Finlay as soon as possible in this connection.

Sportively Speaking

by Barbara Watson

Yesterday afternoon Bliss Matthews glided to victory in the ornamental swimming that was held at the Y.W.C.A. For the benefit of those who have never heard of this form of mermaid activity, ornamental swimming is fancy swimming . . . somersaults, upside down swimming, front flips with half twists, sculling with two feet in the air and other such fabulous antics . . . all this and more, too, to be done without any splash or ripple on the water. This form of water sport is very tense both to watch and for the competitor, who has the pool completely to herself once she leaves the side of the pool.

Bliss came first with 183.85 points, and in second place was Barbara Watson with 127.75 points. Yvette Goldsmith was third with 113.65 points. Edith Townsend, who is the first year representative to the M.W.S.A.A. council, as well as Manager Joan Mount were also competing.

Tonight the swimming spotlight turns to the speedsters and ladies of the board . . . those gals who fly through the air with the greatest of ease . . . at 8 o'clock the watches start turning and they're off in a splash down the pool. At nine o'clock the divers take over to do their swans, jacks, back dives, and any other dives which they can perform. Entries are being taken right up until the time that the various events take place, and the gallery holds lots of spectators.

SHOTS AND PASSES
A basketball league has been organized in the city this year under the name of the Women's Open Basketball League. It has been divided into Senior and Junior sections and five "Y" Clubs. Four colleges and one commercial team have entered so that the competition should be very keen. McGill is going to enter two Senior and two Junior teams, each carrying a minimum of twelve players, so that everyone has the chance to get in there and play. These teams will be chosen from those who play in the Intramural Competitions and at other weekly practices, in the third week in November. . . . Speaking of the Intramural League, we were fascinated by the names of the different teams . . . apparently the girls have combined the names of the co-captains of their teams and came up with some very shall we say spectacular results. The results of yesterday's games show some of these names. The Joyberg defeated the Tommirots, 22-20, the Rod Clan defeated the Winems 30-14, while the Canters took Ric's Angels with a score of 15-12. . . . These are all Section A teams, and on Friday afternoon all the teams in Section B will be playing from 4 to 5.

Sports Shots
There is a field hockey game today to climax the season. . . . The team is meeting the Westmount High School team the only other one that they have come across in the city that engages in this sport.

The contest begins at 3.30 at the Upper Field Thinking of keeping yourself in trim this winter. . . . there certainly seem to be enough ladders to climb. Lists were seen up on the RVC Notice Board for all and sundry to sign for a badminton ladder and a squash ladder. Anyone who is hepped on Badminton can also sign up to play in the Murray League which will be starting soon. . . . the tennis meeting originally called for Thursday, will not be held until Friday at 1.00 p.m. at R.V.C.

Red Inter B Gridders Forfeit Tilt to Dawson

In a recent conversation with the Dawson office, coach Vic Obeck conceded the intermediate "B" league Rugby game originally scheduled for Thursday at 11 a.m. in Molson Stadium. Mr. Obeck has stated that he does not have enough intermediate "B" players to field a team and the team which will face the Dynamos will be composed of any and all available football talent at McGill.

The Dawson team feels that although the game means four points towards the final league standings, it offends their sense of sportsmanship to win in this manner. They have stated that in spite of this concession by the Montreal office, they are going to go out there and turn this theoretical contest into a real game.

The Dynamos will be playing without the able assistance of their veteran snap, John Fisher who played the entire second half of the last game with a broken hand. This will help to make this the most aggressive tilt of a very exciting and interesting intermediate "B" C.I.A. U. rugby season.

Walter Leads McGill Waterpolo Team to 8-1 Win over Quintal

Last night, McGill's Water Polo team defeated Quintal 8-1, 8-1 at Quintal's Pool. Two more wins will qualify the McGill team for city finals.

Don Walter, who played for McGill's intercollegiate team, last year, was the individual star of the game. Walter played a strong game both offensively and defensively, scoring four of the Redmen's goals.

In the first quarter Walter put McGill ahead 1-0 by swimming the length of the pool with the ball and blasting it into the corner of the net for the counter.

Redmen Hold
The second quarter was the most exciting of the game. At one stage, three Redmen were out for fouls. For several minutes, Walter, Cameron, Tilden and Austin held seven Quintal players at bay. Austin, in the nets, made several phenomenal saves and was largely responsible for keeping Quintal scoreless.

Tilden finally relieved the pressure by scoring on a pass from Cameron and McGill returned to full strength. Davies then scored on sure by scoring on a pass from Cameron and McGill returned to full strength. Davies then scored on a beautiful overhand shot to make the score 5-0 at the half.

The third quarter was slow with loose play by both teams. Walter opened the scoring with a difficult angle shot. Quintal scored their only point of the game a moment later when Lepage counted on a penalty shot from close in that on which Austin did not have a chance.

The Redmen retaliated when Walter scored his third goal of the evening to make the score 5-1.

Play speeded up in the last period with Davies scoring twice and Walter scoring off Cameron's pass for his fourth.

Tops in the McGill scoring were Walters and Davies, with Cameron, Austin and Johnson also playing well.

Down Western way, a mock parliament won a decision to abolish beauty contests . . . the government said that most contestants in a beauty contest are only products of drug store camouflage . . . that personality is almost entirely neglected.

Students at Alberta now not able to study for exams by reading exams of former years . . . exam booklets not being published this year . . . for two reasons . . .

(a) it was felt that this system of studying for examinations by going over old exams is wrong, putting too much accent on the exam, rather than on the desire to learn and retain, tends to cramming tactics . . .

President took into account the opinions expressed by members of the faculty who listened to the speakers during the try-outs.

Johnson Speaks to SCM Meet

Canterbury Dean Discusses Russian Communism

"Discussion for lasting peace must ultimately begin on the basis of the six-point program presented to Premier Stalin by Henry Wallace," the Very Reverend Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, told an assembly of some four hundred at the SCM house on University street yesterday afternoon.

Stating that there is taking place in the countries of Eastern Europe an invasion of Communistic ideology that is benefiting Rumania, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, Rev. Johnson defined an interpretation of socialism and communism.

Socialism, he said, starts with the allocating of duties to everybody according to their gift, and rewards to everyone according to their work. For communism, he continued, one must have a "rich, highly-disciplined and gentlemanly country." The classic idea of communism "allocates duties to everyone according to their gift, and rewards everyone according to their need."

SCM STATUS

The Student Christian Movement is not under the jurisdiction of the Students Executive Council, it was announced last night. "It is a religious organization," the release continued, "founded many years ago to promote well-being and Christianity among students." It is an organization with worldwide affiliations and branches at every university.

Sabotage was alleged by the sponsors of the meeting when they reported that the wires of the public address system they had set up had been cut in three places.

The system was to be used to accommodate the crowds that could not get into the meeting-room. The audience filled every room, the basement, and even overflowed onto the roof.

The general attitude of the meeting indicated a mixed crowd. Jeering and clapping met many of the Dean's remarks and at times he was interrupted with derogatory insinuations.

The general attitude of the assembly seemed to be that they had heard nothing particularly new on the problem of world peace and "What was all this fuss about anyway?"

A petition was circulated at the meeting calling on the President of the Students Society to call a special meeting of the Society to discuss the actions taken by student leaders when approached for a meeting place for the Dean.

The petition will not be presented, The Daily has learned. If the organizers are assured that this will be included in the agenda of the meeting today.

The Daily has been advised by another group that a motion condemning the attitude of the President of the Society on this matter will be presented this afternoon.

Having just arrived in Canada from the "new born" State of Israel, Dr. Cherick will bring a first-hand account of the turbulent days through which Palestine is passing, and the effect of war upon the students of the Hebrew University.

The usual program of movies will be held, and an invitation is extended to all those who are interested.
